What is the Prometeo Project?

The Prometeo Project is an initiative of the Ecuadorian government that seeks to strengthen research, academia, and knowledge transference in specialized subjects, through the incorporation of high level foreign or Ecuadorian experts (who live abroad) to higher education institutions (public or co-financed), public research institutes, and governmental institutions from the Executive, Legislative, Judiciary, Electoral and Transparency & Social Control powers, and those considered as relevant.

The incorporation of Prometeos is done in periods from two to twelve months (not necessarily consecutive), time in which they must develop a joint project with their host institution within the Ecuadorian territory. There is the possibility to apply for a second and - in exceptional cases - for a third incorporation.
